FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

American Military Family Inc.,

Mothers Honoring Sons at “Golfing for the Brave” Event

ELIZABETH, CO (September 2009) When Freedom Hunters, a non-profit outdoor adventure organization under American Military Family Inc. (AMF) held the “Golfing for the Brave” tournament you couldn’t tell if Deana was praying for her sons’ safety or some Divine intervention on her teammate, Dan’s drive. Deana Mobley, was one of many mothers at the American Military Family’s “Golfing for the Brave” tournament with sons serving in Harm’s Way. Either way, Deana has good reason to be proud. Both her twin sons, Ryan and Matthew, are serving their country; one a Soldier and the other a Marine. Both have been deployed multiple times to Iraq. Both have had close calls that earned them Purple Hearts and Mom some heartburn. AMF honored both young men with Hero Banners on specific holes. Matthew’s banner had to be on Hole 11 and Ryan’s on Hole 7. AMF was willing to do whatever it took to keep the positive “mojo” going for these heroes.

Since the boys were young hunting and fishing has been a big part of their lives. Their father, Mike, is a hunter education instructor and part-time guide. Mike brought them up with a deep respect for the tradition of hunting, wildlife conservation and the love of the land. While home on leave last year, Ryan was able to squeeze in a back country elk hunt with his Dad. Ryan passed up several young bulls, but spending time with his father outdoors was Ryan’s biggest reward. Hunting is rarely about the harvest, it is about the time in the woods with friends and family that mean the most. A chance to reconnect, relax and decompress in nature is often all it takes to keep our servicemen and women pressing forward. Expanding those opportunities is the goal for the Freedom Hunters program.
